

Preparing for the RACGP Standards for general practices 6th edition

Preparing for the RACGP Standards for general practices 6th edition will take place over time. What your practice needs to focus on will evolve as you move from understanding the changes through to implementation and assessment readiness.

As the exclusive accrediting agency involved in the RACGP 6th edition pilot program, AGPAL brings practical experience of the Standards together with almost 30 years supporting Australian general practices through accreditation.

A practical approach to preparation

Preparing for the 6th edition is a process. Focusing on the right areas at the right time can help your practice plan ahead, strengthen its systems and build team readiness.

1 Understand
Build awareness of what is changing and what it means for your practice.

2 Prepare
Identify priorities, plan ahead and start working through areas that may need additional lead time.

3 Implement
Put changes into practice, strengthen systems and build team readiness.

4 Assessment readiness
Bring your preparation together and prepare for your 6th edition assessment.

For AGPAL clients

Support that is part of being an AGPAL client

Your dedicated Client Relationship Team is on hand throughout your accreditation to understand your practice, answer questions and provide personalised support when you need it.

You also have access to a growing program of education, resources and practical support, including:

- Building Better Practices education featuring practical insights from experienced practice and industry leaders
- Short, focused microlearning on key 6th edition topics
- Practical resources and tools to support preparation and implementation
- Regular updates and guidance as transition arrangements are confirmed, and
- Personalised support from your Client Relationship Team throughout your accreditation.

This education, these resources and ongoing assistance are included as part of your AGPAL accreditation service, at no additional cost. We'll continue to build on this program as practices progress through their preparation and share updates as transition arrangements are confirmed.

Start thinking about your 6th edition preparation

You can begin preparing by considering:

- Where changes may require additional planning or lead time
- How your current systems and processes align with the 6th edition requirements
- Which team members need to be involved in implementation
- How you will bring your preparation together ahead of assessment.

Starting these conversations early gives your practice time to plan, implement changes and build team readiness.
